UPCOMING EVENTS

Yom HaShoah (Holocaust Remembrance Day) Commemoration Thursday, May 5th, at 5:30 pm.

In addition to contributions from our TBE Hebrew School students, we have a very special guest this year. Durfee High School sophomore David Grannum will perform a liturgical-dramatic dance on the theme of Ani Ma'amin as part of our commemoration of this important day. David Grannum is a recent Youth America Grand Prix contemporary dance finalist (third-place winner), and is collaborating with Cantor Shoshana on a new way of expressing the age-old Jewish hope for the coming of the Messianic Era in the light of the Holocaust. In spite of the darkness and sadness of this day, we will end it with uplift and a vision for the future.

“Celebrate Israel” Kabbalat Shabbat Service Friday, May 13th at 5:30 pm

Wednesday, May 11th is Yom HaZikaron (Israeli Memorial Day), and Thursday, May 12th is Yom HaAtzma'ut (Independence Day). Our TBE observance of these days will be incorporated into our “Celebrate Israel” Kabbalat Shabbat service on Friday, May 13th at 5:30 pm. This service, reminiscent of a seder, will be held at a table in the vestry, with kosher wines, cheeses, challah, and other noshes. Please call the TBE office to let us know if you are coming, which will help in the preparation of this special event.

Sunday Breakfast & Lecture

Featuring Matan Zamir

Sunday, May 15th at 9 am

Matan Zamir is Israel's Deputy Consul General to New England. He has been a member of Israel's Foreign Service since 2011, previously serving as the Deputy Chief of Mission at the Israeli Consulate in Mumbai.

If you are planning to join us for breakfast, please RSVP by Monday, May 9th.

Save the following June Dates:

Saturday, June 4th: Bar Mitzvah of Lev Elber, 10 am in the sanctuary followed by luncheon in the vestry.

Friday, June 11th: Tikkun Leil Shavuot (more information to follow in the June bulletin)

Sunday, June 13th: Yizkor

A message from our Spiritual Leader, Rabbi Mark Elber

In Psalm 90:4 it says that "in Your sight a thousand years are like yesterday that has passed..." In other words, G!d's sense of time, in the view of the Psalmist, is completely different from a human one. Even from a human perspective, however, there is no uniform sense of time. I'm sure we've all had the experience of time seeming to accelerate with the passing years. When I was a child, the years went by much more slowly. It's hard to believe that it's already May. It feels like it was just September - 2013!! I remember, decades ago, trying to imagine what it would be like to reach the year 2000 - and now we're looking back on that millennial change from the perspective of sixteen years.

There are many days when I wish time would stand still. I'll look up at the sky or out at the ocean on a beautiful day and wish I could freeze that precious moment, but I try not to waste my time (as it were) hoping for something that cannot happen. I feel the same way with our son Lev - that the moments with him are priceless and each stage of his life so special that it's hard to not want him to stay at each stage and not outgrow it. However, the passage of time is inevitable and each new stage brings its own unique treasures. The key, I believe, is to be grateful for what we do have while recognizing that we cannot hold on to it forever.

Developing a true sense of gratitude for the blessings in our lives is invaluable. I see the brakhot (blessings) we recite in our tradition as functioning to both cultivate an awareness of ways in which our lives are blessed and wondrous, and affording a framework in which to express that consciousness. There are many less common blessings that we rarely learn about. Most people are familiar with the blessing over wine (and grape juice) or over bread, but we're not usually exposed to the brakhot to be said when you see wonders of nature like an ocean, great mountains, or a rainbow, or a person we care about that we haven't seen in a long time.

It is too easy to be so caught up in our daily routines and obligations that we can lose sight of all we could/should be grateful for. Traditionally there is a short twelve word prayer (beginning with the words Modeh/Modah ani meaning "I am thankful") that is customarily said as soon as we awake and which expresses gratitude for another day of life. A better known blessing that articulates thankfulness for reaching a certain milestone in our personal lives or reaching a special or sacred time such as a holiday is the "Shehekheyenu" which literally means "who has kept us alive" to reach this special/sacred moment.

In ancient days, prayer was more spontaneous

than it tends to be today. There was a traditional framework or skeleton of the prayer, but those who were well versed in the tradition would weave their own words around the customary framework. In Pirkei Avot (The Chapters of our Ancestors, a collection of rabbinic teachings from about 300 BCE to 200 CE when the Mishna was sealed), it says "don't make your prayer keva i.e. static or "fixed." Though most of us lack the facility these days to find the perfect words to give voice to our feelings spontaneously, impromptu expressions of gratitude or reverence also have a long illustrious history and are the original inspiration for many of our formal prayers. You'll find many Chassidic tales that speak of the superiority of spontaneous expression of one's heart and soul over the formulas of the formal prayers. Often these stories will focus around the heartfelt expression in any language (or even no language, but rather in some other form of expression like whistling, humming, or singing a wordless melody) and compare them as more meaningful than the "fixed" formulaic prayers of the learned rabbis.

The prayers that speak to me most, those I find most meaningful, are ones that express praise, wonder and gratitude for the miracle of life, and which help us cultivate an awareness of the eternal in each moment. Though we cannot stop time's progression and the inevitability of change, we can be grateful for the gifts of life we are granted. Each sacred season has its special flavor and significance which can add great meaning on many levels. On the social level it is meaningful to share these occasions with those we love; also, these occasions often convey with their special features the strong memory and presence of loved ones no longer with us. Finally, they work on us viscerally in a way that connects us with the very fabric of life itself. I'm sure many of us retain powerful recollections of Passover Seders that touched us and that come back to us every year at Seder time.

Eight verses after the verse this column opened with in Psalm 90, is another expression that speaks deeply to me: Limnot yameinu, ken hoda, v'navi l'avav chochma. "Teach us to treasure each day, so that we may attain a heart of wisdom." Truly words to live by.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As you can see by the cover of this bulletin, there is a lot going on at Temple Beth El. With the winter well behind us now, and the days growing longer, we hope to see lots of familiar faces at our many events.

I would love to have a full house for our Sunday Breakfast featuring Matan Zamir, Israel's Deputy Consul General to New England. While still a young man, his experience has been very diverse, and I have heard from other congregations that his talk is riveting. Bring your family, bring your friends, bring your neighbors! Also, if you know in advance a question you would like to ask, please write it down and we will do our best to see that Mr. Zamir answers as many questions as possible.

We also have our second Bar Mitzvah of the spring, something I would have thought inconceivable just a few years ago. Please plan to come and join us as Lev Elber, son of our very own Rabbi and Cantor, becomes a Bar Mitzvah. Everyone in the Temple community is welcome, and there will be a luncheon following in the vestry.

Between the work on the towers and the big tree falling on the school it has been a busy couple of months where the building is concerned. Everything is just about sorted out and finished, with just a few details remaining. Near the back of the bulletin there are some "Before and After" pictures of the areas of the towers that have been repaired. Thanks again to Bernie and Arthur Miranda for stopping the leaks, and Steve Mello of Castor & Pollux Painting for doing the interior repairs. Thank you, too, for your prayers on Bernie's behalf. He is in rehab now, after being in critical condition, but he still has a long road ahead.

I hope you all had a wonderful Passover.

Sisterhood President's Message

April has come and just about gone, as I sit here and write this article. We've all been busy with Passover, and getting ready for the nice weather to strike. Today it's raw and rainy, but they predict tomorrow it will start to warm up. I sure hope so.

This Friday night we will be celebrating our Passover Shabbos dinner. I want to thank the following people that helped to make this possible: Norm and Anita Bolski, Beverly Solup, Hannah Evans and Marcie Falconero. We must not forget Rabbi Mark and Cantor Shoshana, whose guidance we deeply appreciate. A wonderful night of tradition, along with great food and good company, make these events special.

Please make your reservations for the upcoming Sunday morning breakfast. At that time you will meet Matan Zamir, Israel's Deputy Consul General to New England. This promises to be an interesting morning.

Mah Jongg Mondays will resume now that Passover is over. Adult education meets at 10:30 am, then you can bring a dairy lunch and join in the chit chat. Last, but by no means least, the games begin. I hope everyone finds pleasure in these activities.

Lev Gershon Elber will celebrate his Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, June 4th at 10 am in the Sanctuary. All in our Temple Beth El community are invited to the service and the luncheon immediately following. Save the date!

Lev is a 7th-grade honors student at Morton Middle School. His favorite subjects are Math and Technology. Lev has a great sense of humor, and a taste for science fiction: his favorite movies are Star Wars 7: The Force Awakens, and Mel Brooks' Spaceballs. Lev also favors graphic novels and books of Bill Watterson's comic strips of Calvin and Hobbes. Since coming with his parents, Rabbi Mark and Cantor Shoshana, to Fall River, Lev has spent part of each summer attending the Southcoast YMCA Camp Metacomet, but his favorite week of the whole year is the one spent at iDTech Camp where Lev learns computer coding and programming. Lev would love to have a career someday as a computer/video game designer. Lev has one sibling, Mira Gutoff (25), who will be traveling from San Francisco to celebrate with Lev and family. Please join us for this special day!

BOOK CLUB UPDATE

We are currently reading the top five Ernest Hemingway books. Last month, we began with his first book, The Sun Also Rises. What a fabulous two hours of discovery, sharing and insight as Larry Polin, who has a master's degree in early American authors, guided us through the many-layered story of Jake! We all agreed that this book was a challenge to read, understand and recognize genius, but those of us gathered in the Library overcame our struggles and LEARNED A LOT!

We are moving on to A Farewell to Arms, and Larry assures us that it will be an easier read! He will be there on Wednesday, May 18th at 10:30 am in the Library. Hope you are too.

Sisterhood Gift Shop

Do stop by our gift shop to see the new merchandise. Along with a new selection of kipot (yarmulkes), we have a black suede kipa with the New England Patriots emblem. Any Red Sox fans out there? Check out the Red Sox door mezuzah as well as the other new selection of mezuzot. If you know of sports fans of any teams and would like a unique gift, I would be happy to show you our Judaica sports catalog.

Keep us in mind when shopping for meaningful gifts for bar and bat mitzvot, showers, weddings and new homes. If someone close to you is getting married, I carry a beautiful line of ketubot with a meaningful selection of wordings for both traditional and non-traditional marriages (ours is an equal opportunity gift shop!). Cantor Shoshana's News & Notes

Welcome back to our snowbirds! We missed you over the winter. Now that you are back we would love to see you any Friday night and/or Shabbat morning. If you have not tried a Shabbat morning service in a long time, please check us out: We have lively Torah discussions, and a lovely time socializing over Shabbat lunch in the vestry after the morning service (which begins each Shabbat morning at 10 and runs until 12 noon).

On Thursday, May 5th (see announcement on cover) we will hold a Yom HaShoah commemoration in the sanctuary at 5:30 pm, followed by light refreshments in the vestry.

Friday May 6th will be a Friday Night Live Kabbalat Shabbat. Service will begin at 6:30 pm.

Wednesday, May 11th is Yom HaZikaron (Israeli Memorial Day), and Thursday, May 12th is Yom HaAtzma'ut (Independence Day). Our TBE observance of these days will be incorporated into our "Celebrate Israel" Kabbalat Shabbat service on Friday, May 13th, at 5:30. This service, reminiscent of a seder, will be held at a table in the vestry, with kosher wines, cheeses, challah, and other noshes. Please call the TBE office to let us know if you are coming, which will help in the preparation of this special event.

Sunday, May 15th: Breakfast and Lecture featuring Israeli Deputy Consul Matan Zamir (see cover), beginning with Shacharit (a morning prayer service) at 9 am. Please RSVP to the TBE office by Monday, May 9th.

Our next "Sunday Afternoon at the Jewish Movies" will be on May 22nd at 4 pm. The movie will be the award-winning Israeli film "Footnote".

Save the dates for June:

- Sat. June 4th, Bar Mitzvah of Lev Elber, 10 am in the Sanctuary. All are invited! (Luncheon to follow.)
- June 11th is Erev Shavuot, followed by 1st and 2nd days of Yom Tov, on Sunday, June 12th and Monday, June 13th. There will be a Tikkun Leil Shavuot on Saturday evening, June 11th (more information on this in next month's bulletin), and Yizkor on Monday, June 13th.

Ongoing Classes at TBE:

- Monday mornings from 10:30-12:00: Jewish Adult Education with the Cantor and the Rabbi, covering a vast array of subjects. Each class is self-contained, so you can drop in any week. (No class on Memorial Day, 5/30, or on Shavuot, 6/13.)
- Rabbi Mark teaches two adult ed Hebrew classes, and might be starting a new beginners' class soon. Please call the office and leave the rabbi a message if you are

"FOOTNOTE"

Eliezer and Uriel Shkolnik are father and son as well as rival professors in Talmudic Studies. When both men learn that Eliezer will be lauded for his work, their complicated relationship reaches a new peak.

Temple Family

- Our deepest sympathy to the family of Robert Starr
- Our deepest sympathy to Linda Monchik and family on the loss of her beloved mother, Lois P. Burden
- Mazel Tov to Gloria and Jerry Baskin, whose grandson, Connor Baskin, graduated from Arizona State University and was awarded a Fullbright scholarship
- Congratulations to Atty. & Mrs. Kenneth Littman on the birth of their grandson, Jackson

Passover Greetings

Rabbi Mark received a Passover card from the Bishop of Fall River. It included the following message:

Dear Rabbi Elber,

In the name of the Catholic clergy and people of the Diocese of Fall River, I wish you and your congregation a Passover rich with tradition and filled with many blessings.

*Sincerely yours,
Edgar da Cunha
Bishop of Fall River*

CEMETERY HEADSTONE CLEANING

It's that time again -- our cemetery landscaper, Tommy Fillipovich, has once again offered to pressure-wash the headstones and foot markers using a biodegradable cleanser that won't damage the stones or the surrounding grass. The results are impressive, with the stones looking amazingly like new.

As setting up the equipment is time-consuming, Tommy has offered to do all of the pressure-washing in one day for a discounted price. Headstones will be cleaned for $60 each, foot markers for $15 each. In order to take advantage of the discount, we must receive your check no later than May 15th. Those stones that have been paid for will be clean and shiny in time for Memorial Day weekend. For those who miss the deadline, the cost for cleaning a headstone will be $100, a foot marker will be $25, and they will be cleaned at our landscaper's convenience. We plan to offer the discount day each May.

If you have any questions about this service, please call the Temple office at (508) 674-3529.

THANK YOU TO ALL WHO HAVE CONTRIBUTED TO THE TOWER PROJECT

Before and after photos of a portion of the ceiling in the sanctuary foyer.

There is still one section left to repair in the ceiling above the elevator. The damage is so extensive it requires both carpentry and finish work. We hope to have it completed within the next month.

College Scholarships

Scholarships are available to all undergraduate students residing in the greater Fall River area with special emphasis on entering freshmen.

Applications are available in the Temple office and should be completed by the student and returned as soon as possible.

The Scholarship Committee must have scholarship applications in hand by June 15, 2016.
