JANUARY
5TH, 2025

A message from our Spiritual Leader, Rabbi Mark Elber

Welcome to the Hebrew month of Sh'vat, best known for the Jewish New Year for Trees that occurs in the very middle of the month, the 15th day, known in Hebrew as Tu BiSh'vat. As I'm sure most of you know, every Hebrew letter has a numerical equivalent. The number "fifteen" in Hebrew letters is represented by a "tet" and a "vav" which together is pronounced "Tu." The middle of the month is when the full moon occurs, so Tu BiSh'vat, like Purim and the beginnings of Sukkot and Passover all occur on a full moon.

In ancient times there were four Jewish New Years. The most famous, of course, is the New Year in the fall, on the first and second days of Tishrei, which our tradition considers the anniversary of Creation. The first day of Nisan in the spring is considered the first month of the Jewish calendar because that is the month during which we celebrate our liberation from slavery in Egypt and, therefore, the beginning of our true peoplehood. It also, incidentally, was when the years of a king's reign were calculated i.e. from one Nisan to the next. So even though the first two days of Tishrei are the best known "Rosh Hashanah," Tishrei is actually considered the seventh month of the year in the Torah.

The month that precedes Tishrei is Elul, the first day of which is considered the New Year for tithing cattle in the Torah during which an animal would be brought to the ancient Temple and offered as a sacrifice and subsequently eaten by the family sacrificing it in the Temple. Elul is a month of preparation for the deep task of Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur during which we're expected to take an accounting of ourselves and recalibrate how we want to live. The name Elul (spelled aleph, lamed, vav, lamed) was also taken by our sages as an acronym of a phrase from the Biblical book, The Song of Songs (Shir Hashirim), which our ancient sages interpreted not as the pastoral collection of love poems that it appears to be in a literal reading of the book, but rather as a love poem between G'd and the Jewish people. Elul is taken as an acronym for "ani l'dodi v'dodi li" (I am my beloved's and my beloved is mine – "ani" begins with an aleph) – alluding to the strong connection to the Divine that we seek to cultivate even more than usual in the month preceding Rosh Hashanah in the fall.

There is a clear rhythm to the Jewish week, month, and year, strongly tied to nature and the cycles of the moon. The only day of the week that has a name is Shabbat. All other days are named by their relationship to Shabbat. Every week culminates with Shabbat which begins, as you all know, with sunset on Friday evening and ends when three stars would be visible in the clear night sky. The connection to the rhythms of nature with sunset and sunrise are obvious. At home, traditionally, we usher in Shabbat with candle lighting (of two candles) before sunset, blessing our children, and then beginning the traditional meal with Kiddush. Though it's customary to make Kiddush at the end of the Friday evening service in the synagogue, it's traditional to subsequently make it at home. At home we begin with an additional paragraph which begins with: "Yom Hashishi; Vay'khulu Hashamayim (the sixth day; and the heavens were finished...)." If you pay close attention, you'll notice that the first letters of the first four words of this kiddush said at home is made up of the most important name of G'd in the Torah (Y-H-V-H).

Though Tu BiSh'vat was important in biblical times when our ancestors lived in the land of Israel, it ceased to be as significant after our exile from the land. However, its significance had a resurgence in the 1500s when a kabbalistic community arose in northern Israel in the city of Tzfat (or Safed in English), about fifty years after our expulsion from Spain in 1492. From about the year 1,000 until 1492, the Jewish community in Spain was the most important community in the diaspora. There was an incredible flowering of Torah commentators, Hebrew poets, grammarians, philosophers, and mystics. When that community was destroyed, a number of very important thinkers ended up in northern Israel, in Tzfat, particularly those involved in Kabbalah (Jewish mysticism). Tzfat is the next town over from Meron in the mountains of the northern Galilee. Meron was where Shimon Bar Yokhai and his son, El'azar, hid from the Romans for thirteen years. Shimon Bar Yokhai was traditionally believed to be the author of the most influential kabbalistic text, the Zohar, which he was supposed to have composed while he and his son were hiding in a cave in Meron. One of the main kabbalistic symbols of the emanation of Divine energy that creates, gives life to, and sustains the world is that of the cosmic Tree of Life. The kabbalists of Tzfat first created a Tu BiSh'vat seder in the 1500s. With the return of Jewish exiles from the diaspora to the land of Israel with the advent of Zionism (in the late 1800s), with their reconnection with the land and its flora and fauna, Tu BiSh'vat also became a revived holiday even among the most secular Jews.

Despite 2,000 years of exile from the land, when most of world Jewry lived in the lands of the dispersion, our tradition always kept the land of Israel central in our prayers and our dreams. Without that continued connection, the revival of Jewish life and the Hebrew language in the land of Israel would never have happened. Sadly, that revival has never been easy. In many ways it is a modern miracle, but one we can never take for granted. During the 1,300 or so years that we were sovereign in our own land, there were often times that our sovereignty was threatened. And yet, with all that, we managed to produce such incredible spiritual treasures as the Bible, the Talmud, Midrash, etc. With all its challenges, Israel continues to be the vibrant and creative center of Jewish life. May we soon see peace in the land and the return of all the hostages.

PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

Things are moving along as we work out the many details on how best to move forward with the sale of the Temple complex as well as many of its contents.

We are still looking at any and all options to continue to have a strong Jewish presence in the Fall River area. Part of our timeline hinges on the preschool’s departure from the school building. Their lease goes through October 31st.

Before we sell the complex we want to get established at our new location so that we can move in and ramp up gradually. At this time we are assessing the option of sharing space with the Unitarian Church on North Main Street. If this works out, we plan to be there for at least a few months. Cantor Shoshana and our relocation team have visited the site and have a positive view of the space.

In 2026, we will assess options to lease a space, buy something, or stay in the shared space.

During 2025 we will have one or two auction sales of building contents. We will likely only be able to keep 5-10% of all the items we presently have. These auctions will include kitchen goods, furniture, pews, books, etc.

In regards to the Judaica and holy items, Rabbi Mark, Cantor Shoshana, Nancy Seibert and I are reviewing all of these items (Torahs, prayer books, etc) and will determine what to keep, what to sell, etc.

A separate issue concerns the Temple cemetery. It is currently a part of the Temple, but we are exploring the option of legally separating it from the Temple so it is an independent entity. We have been advised that this is a good course of action to protect the cemetery from the Temple’s financial constraints. On a very positive note, the cemetery is fully funded in perpetuity.

Some of these major actions, including the sale of the complex and the separation of the cemetery, must be put to a vote of the full membership. We plan to do that at the annual congregational meeting in June. We will keep you advised well in advance so you can plan to come in person if at all possible. We will set the date of the meeting soon, and send out a letter with more specific information in May.

As we sadly lost Ken Littman last year, we realized we needed to hire a new law firm to help us navigate the road ahead. We have selected Brainsky Levinson, LLC. Eric Brainsky is Jewish and will handle items related to Judaica. Mike Levinson is the lawyer for a local church and is familiar with the unique legal elements of religious institutions having property, cemeteries, endowments, etc.

We are still open to new ideas about where to move, how to dispose of contents, or even better, ways to save the building. If you have any ideas please let us know and we will look into them.

Sisterhood President’s Message

I hope this piece finds everyone in good health. We are now in the throes of winter, and if you’re anything like me spring cannot come soon enough. The days are getting longer, and that’s a step in the right direction.

On January 18th we celebrated the 50th anniversary of Leonard Lehrer’s bar mitzvah. A lovely kiddish was sponsored by Leonard and his wife Soili. This Shabbos was enjoyed by all who participated in this event.

On Sunday, January 5th, we held our post-Chanukah party. It was an afternoon of social conversation, latkes, all kinds of goodies and a wonderful movie. These get-togethers are a great way to reconnect with our Temple family.

Please save this date. On February 15th we will again have our monthly “Make a Minyan”, services at 10 am followed by a special kiddush. At this time, we will pay homage to Tu BiSh’vat, the “New Year of the Trees”. Please plan on joining us. The more, the merrier!

There will be different things happening in the near future, so please watch your e-mail for updates.

So, until next month, stay safe and healthy.

TBE News & Notes

The best laid plans...as you all know by now, the TBE Chanukah party that was to have been held at the Brown/Elber household had to be rescheduled and relocated due to our whole family having come down with COVID together. Rabbi Mark, Lev and I shared a lot of varieties of soup and much togetherness as we weathered our illness together, holding services once again on Zoom – reminding us of the old days of the pandemic!

Our post-Chanukah party was held on January 5th at TBE, where we didn't light candles or sing Chanukah songs, but we did enjoy latkes, applesauce and a variety of cakes, as well as a beautiful and fascinating Israeli movie, The Secrets (Ha-Sodot).

On Saturday, January 18th, we celebrated the 50th anniversary of our vice-president, Leonard Lehrer's, bar mitzvah. It was a wonderful service, with a full chapel and many relative "newcomers" to the bimah to recite the Torah blessings. Mazel tov to all!

On Monday January 20th, Rabbi Mark and Cantor Shoshana took part in a community celebration of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King's life at the Bethel AME Church in Fall River, with Rabbi Mark offering some reflections and Cantor Shoshana singing a special song that she composed using phrases from King's most famous speeches.

Our Make a Minyan for February will be Saturday, February 15th, beginning at 10 AM (with the Torah service at around 11). Come join us for the chanting of Yitro, the portion that contains the 10 Commandments, and share a kiddush lunch afterwards replete with fresh and dried fruits in honor of "the Jewish New Year for the Trees," Tu BiSh'vat (which falls on February 13th). This photo of a live oak was taken by Cantor Shoshana while on a trip in 2007 with her mom in Ojai, CA.

Save the Date for our TBE celebration of Purim: Ma'ariv, Megillah reading and Purim refreshments on Thursday evening, March 13th at 5:30.

Our "Make a Minyan" for March will be on Shabbat, March 22nd.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON AT THE JEWISH MOVIES

From The Producers to Willy Wonka; from Blazing Saddles to Young Frankenstein...to The Frisco Kid to Stir Crazy, and many more wild and wacky adventures, Gene Wilder was one of our most unique, sweet, and funny Jewish actors (and directors). This 2023 documentary on his life and career (with a focus also on the end of his life when he was challenged with Alzheimer's) is delightful, funny, sad, and heartwarming. Featuring interviews with Wilder, Mel Brooks, Alan Alda, Carol Kane and others both in and out of Hollywood, it is a true treat. (1 hour, 32 minutes).

Carleen Makowski celebrating her first aliyah after her conversion. Mazel tov!
