Yom Kippur service in our new home, the breakfast, our Sukkah, flowers, Carleen Makowski peeking out of the Sukkah, a sign at Hathaway Funeral Home for the Rosh Hashanah Second Day service, a new pillar for memorial stones at the cemetery, and Rabbi Mark's shofar.

A message from our Spiritual Leader, Cantor Shoshana Brown

A reason to sing Halleluyah

I write these words on the sixth day of Sukkot, having just returned from a delightful small gathering at our new TBE home. Five of us were there for Shacharit, beginning at 8 AM, during which time we waved the lulav and etrog, chanted Hallel, followed by the Hoshanot (liturgical poems interspersed with the refrain hoshanah – save us!) marching around the sanctuary with our lulavim and etrogim. Afterwards, we all enjoyed breakfast in our Sukkah behind the UC, which was delightful for being open on one side to the sunshine which was – finally! – blessing us after so many straight days of rain and gloomy skies.

The beginning of the Sukkot holiday had been a literal “wash-out” this year, with plenty of rain and dangerously high winds forecasted, so much so that both at the temple and at our own home on Walnut Street, we only erected the outer metal frame of our sukkot, not actually adding the walls and the roof until the fourth day of Sukkot, when the rain was finally over. Then, as our president Leonard Lehrer and friends were working on the TBE Sukkah, they discovered that no one could find the sheeting that belonged to the Sukkah frame...it had disappeared! So Leonard brought over some terrific cloths that he had ordered for his own home for Passover – desert scenes – that covered three walls, all except for a 1-foot space at the bottom; then Henry and Carleen found a bolt of cloth that we still had left over from High St., which, as we unrolled it around the Sukkah, exactly fit the three-walled space. The fourth wall was left open (which is fine for a kosher Sukkah), and at the last minute Leonard festooned that wall with bamboo-like plants that he cut from the edge of the UC parking lot. So, via teamwork, we saved the day!

I had already begun this column yesterday, but last night I learned about the seemingly-miraculous “save” of a flydubai Boeing 737 MAX enroute from Dubai to Tel Aviv (on Sept. 30), a flight which held 174 passengers, including 27 children, with most passengers being Israeli and four holding dual U.S.-Israeli citizenship. By now you surely have heard much about the brave Indian pilot, Captain Smit Machchhar, who was attacked by his Omani co-pilot mid-flight. If Captain Machchhar had not taken the actions he had, that flight would surely have gone down and all on board would have died. In the words of PM Netanyahu, who videotaped a statement soon after the rescue:

“Despite being stabbed and seriously injured, he [Captain Machchhar] fought back, resisted, opened the cockpit door, and enabled passengers and crew to overpower the attacker — preventing a catastrophic mid-air disaster.”

There were quite a number of miraculous-seeming coincidences and heroic people who took actions that day that saved so many people: the pilot was able to keep the cabin door from being locked from the inside; a joint effort by passengers and the plane’s crew helped to subdue the attacking pilot and drag him out of the cockpit. Then, according to CNN, “Dr. Shota Musaev, a dentist on board... tied the attacker up using headphone cords and plastic zip-ties. He then started tending to the wounded pilot.” Perhaps the most fortuitous fact was that there happened to be two off-duty flydubai pilots on board the flight who were able to take over the controls, but this only happened after an Israeli non-pilot who had helped subdue the attacker arrested the plane’s descent, as described by a Times of Israel report:

“Yaniv Hayun, one of the Israelis who helped subdue the flydubai copilot who stabbed the captain in an apparent attempt to crash the plane, grabbed the plane’s controls and says he learned from the TV show “Air Disasters” how to pull the levers to fly the plane upward. After that, two off-duty flydubai pilots took over and landed the plane safely in Saudi Arabia.”

I was thinking about this wonderful rescue from what would have been a terrible disaster as we began to chant Hallel this morning. Hallel means “praise,” and halleluyah means “praise Yah” (one of the short forms of God’s name). The repeated cries during our service of hosha-na! and hoshia-na! mean “save us!,” paralleled by another recurrent phrase, hatzlikha-na!, which means something like “help us succeed!” Surely many of the passengers aboard that fateful flight – who did succeed later that same day in returning to Tel Aviv – may be going to synagogue at the end of the Sukkot holiday to recite the Gomel blessing at the Torah, a prayer of thanks for surviving a dangerous situation:

Praised are You, Adonai our God, Ruler of the Universe, who shows goodness to us beyond our deserving, and who has bestowed favor upon me.

To which the congregation is to respond:

May God who has been gracious to you continue to favor you with all that is good.

Now obviously, the seeming “miracle rescue” of this flight with its 174 passengers (plus the flight crew), was not exactly the work of God alone – there were many individuals whose actions were critical in saving all these people! But just as we thank God for a good harvest, when of course it is the farmers who plant and harvest the crops; for restoring us to good health after illness, when often it is the doctors and others in the medical-pharmaceutical complex who enable us to get better – so here, it is right to feel gratitude to God that this planeload of human beings was saved, while nevertheless, we are keenly aware of the human heroes who took action to save these lives.

It is a natural human response to feel deep gratitude when we see a disaster that could have been that was thwarted at the last minute. For most of us it is not enough to simply say “thanks” in our hearts to all the individuals who “saved the day;” we cannot help but feel overwhelming thanks as well to our God, the Source of all Life.

This morning, I felt overflowing gladness to be alive with our friends from Temple Beth El, to chant these wonderful prayers and praises together, to be waving our lulavim and fragrant etrogim, and to be sharing a meal in our wonderfully “upgraded” Sukkah (thanks to Leonard Lehrer and Henry Parker!). This sixth-day chol hamoed (intermediate day) of the weeklong Sukkot celebration was so freylekh (joyous), I think we will make it a new tradition at TBE. If you missed it this year, plan on coming next year. Sukkot is the Jewish “Thanksgiving” festival. As this bulletin will be covering October and November, I want to take this opportunity to wish you all very happy American Thanksgiving next month.

With gratitude to all of you who keep our community thriving,

Cantor Shoshana

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Shalom TBE Family and Friends,

Our Hebrew year 5787 got off to a meaningful start with wonderful services at our building on Rosh Hashana day one, at Hathaway on day two and back at our building for Kol Nidre, Yom Kippur day with Yizkor, ending with Ne'ilah and a strong shofar blast. A big todah rabah (thank you) to Rabbi Mark and Cantor Shoshana for outstanding High Holiday services.

I want to say a huge THANK YOU to HATHAWAY FUNERAL home for hosting our Rosh Hashana day two service in their reception room. The venue was amazing. They assigned multiple staff to support us, brought in one of our Arks for the Torahs and set up a very nice welcoming sign out front. Immense credit to Rick Schwartz for the idea of going to Hathaway and to the good folks at Hathaway for making it all happen.

Thank you to Libby, Carleen, and the entire Sisterhood for putting on a delicious break-the-fast, and to Charles Winokoor for blowing the shofar.

We had great plans for Sukkot with multiple events in the Sukkah but unfortunately a nor'easter forced the cancellation of most events. The photo on the cover is our Sukkah where we held a few gatherings at the end of Sukkot, and then came Simchat Torah celebrating with our scrolls which have been part of our heritage for decades.

October 27th will be national elections in Israel. Whether you support parties such as Likud or parties like Yesh Atid/National Unity we all want the best for Eretz Yisrael and hope for peace and stability in the future.

As I ramp up as your president, I want to note that it takes a team to run TBE.

Libby Cohen does a beautiful job with Carleen and Elaine in hosting all of our food events. Carleen Makowski is now Treasurer and oversees all our finances. Marie Twomey, our Office Manager, truly runs the operation. From the books to the bulletin to the website and emails, she does it all. Henry Parker, our Maintenance Manager, keeps the facility immaculate, makes most repairs, paints, and assembles our Sukkah.

Finally and most importantly there is Rick Schwartz, our past president and now Vice President. Rick's grandparents were founding members of TBE, and his parents and brothers continued the tradition. Rick went to Hebrew school at TBE, he was in the TBE Boy Scout troop, he reminisces about the days of the magnificent organ and the fabulous choir. He has been a board member for decades, he took on the presidency when Steve Silverman was no longer able, and he spent countless hours leading us through the sale of the High Street complex and into the Unitarian building. Rick has also been instrumental connecting

Sisterhood President's Message

With the onset of fall, there has been much going on here at TBE. We celebrated Sukkot in style with a beautiful Sukkah. It started out with heavy rain, but as soon as it cleared our President, Leonard Lehrer, and our resident Mr. Fixit, Henry Parker, had it up and ready to decorate. I must say it was beautiful, with greens on the ceiling and at the entrance. Scenes on the walls had me feeling like I was in the desert with Moses and our tribes. So, with that we started a new tradition for our congregation, next year I hope to see more of you join us for services and brunch in the Sukkah. It only comes once each year.

On Saturday, October 31st, and Saturday, November 21st, we will be celebrating our traditional "Make A Minyan" We look forward to taking out the Torah, so please make every effort to join us. A nice Shabbat luncheon will follow. This is a good time to socialize and chill.

Please watch your e-mails, as Marie does a stellar job keeping us updated on any news or changes of importance.

So, until next time, stay well and safe,

Libby Cohen
Sisterhood President

with the Jewish Omni Fund, which has helped TBE with substantial donations.

TBE is truly blessed to have Rick as the present "Father" of TBE, shepherding us through the good times and the tough times. so please take a moment to thank him, or perhaps drop him a note or an email to the Temple office.

We hope you will come join us at TBE for services and activities. You will see all that has been accomplished under Rick's leadership.

L'Chaim!

Leonard Lehrer
President

PS: In addition to Rick, I view Bill Chebot as our esteemed TBE "grandfather". Over the past three years I have reached out to Bill for advice and historical context when I had questions as Vice President and Treasurer. I will continue to do so as President. Bill continues to be a valuable asset to our congregation!

The next bulletin will be published in early December, so please check your email regularly for Temple updates!

A message from the Fall River United Jewish Appeal

Dear Friends,

As the holiday season comes to a close, the Fall River United Jewish Appeal is launching our annual fund drive. For 77 years, this dedicated volunteer organization has raised funds to support an array of essential charitable programs.

Much of our impact is felt in Israel, where your donations provide critical services to those most in need. This includes helping new immigrants adapt to Israeli society, funding enriching after-school programs for children, and giving at-risk youths the opportunity to attend summer camp.

Our impact is equally powerful right here at home. In Fall River, UJA donations sponsor camperships at the Boys & Girls Club and the YMCA. Through our Friendly Visitor program, we also offer essential emotional support and companionship to our local elderly and homebound residents. Furthermore, we proudly fund organizations dedicated to fighting anti-Semitism and promoting Holocaust awareness and education on both the local and national levels.

Historically, members of our congregation have shown incredible generosity supporting our organization. When you receive your pledge card this year, please return it with whatever contribution you are able to make. Together, we can continue to support these deeply worthy organizations.

Thank you for your continued generosity,

*Tilden Bogus
President

TBE News & Notes from Cantor Shoshana

The High Holidays at TBE – with four services at our North Main St. location and one at Hathaway's on Robeson St. – went smoothly and were beautiful. Thank you to our Flower Fund chair Elaine Weiss Reback (and to all who donated to the fund!); and thank you to the many people who worked to make sure that all went off without a hitch and that everyone was comfortable in our new location(s).

The Rabbi and I want to say a special thank you to Charlie Winokoor for blowing the Shofar during these services.

It was lovely sharing a break-fast meal at the end of Yom Kippur, provided by our Event Committee workers: Libby Cohen, Elaine Weiss Reback, and Carleen Makowski.

Although high winds and rain kept us from erecting our TBE Sukkah until midway through Sukkot, we did have a break in the weather in time for our September 30th TBE Outing-walk on Fall River's Quequechan Rail Trail (see photos on p. 6); after the walk, we returned to the Brown/Elber home to share lunch in the Brown/Elber backyard Sukkah. (There will be one more outing before winter sets in: see next column for more information).

Looking ahead: Save the Date for our TBE Chanukah celebration on Sunday December 6th. As we get closer to this date, look for more details in your email or on our temple website.

Finally, please everyone make sure to get out and vote in November – whatever your political inclinations, we want to keep our democracy strong!

TBE Outing Club

There is still enough warm-ish weather left for one more outing!

Our next TBE outing will be on Wednesday, October 21st. Our destination is Blithewold Gardens in Bristol, RI. Please note the entry fee is $20. We will depart from the Brown/Elber home on Walnut Street at 10:30 AM; alternatively, you can meet us at 11 AM at Blithewold.

We are planning to lunch afterwards in Warren at Rhody Roots, which I have heard is great, and they have lots of vegetarian options.
